

Leadership Alamance

SELECTION CRITERIA

The Leadership Alamance Selection Committee seeks to identify those individuals most likely to utilize their leadership capacities in community service for the long term benefit of Alamance County. Participants will be chosen based upon the information provided in the application. Participants are selected after consideration of their leadership achievements, community involvement, overall accomplishments, recommendations, and ability to assume expanded community responsibility.

Leadership Alamance requires a serious commitment of time. Participants should be prepared to devote two days for the September overnight retreat and one full day per month from September through June. Prior to each session day, students must complete a prerequisite determined by the steering committee. Before graduation day, students must complete a class project as determined by their classmates. Candidates must have the full support of the organization they represent. Those who are unable to make the entire time commitment should not apply. Projected dates for the Class of 2011 are:
